

Ideal homes

Designing the perfect home takes both flair and understanding Cherstone Limited's Tim Cherrill explains

Based in Newbury, Cherstone has provided Architectural Design and Project Management services since 1992. Over the years founding Director Tim Cherrill and his team have worked on an array of exciting and challenging projects predominantly in Hampshire, Berkshire, Dorset, Wiltshire and London.

Tim likes to work closely with the client in order to understand just what is on their wish list and how these ideas and more can be realised. Tim says, "Ultimately the aim is provide a service that exceeds the client's expectations and just as importantly the whole process needs to be as stress free as possible".

"Provide a service that exceeds expectations"

More recently Cherstone has been working on a number of planning application projects for its clients who want to maximise the value of their land. Due to Cherstone's clients varying financial circumstances, Cherstone crafts a package that meets everyone's particular needs. Recent projects have included a single house on half an acre and 40 houses on four acres.

The ultimate test for Cherstone is whether a client would be happy to provide a

"We desperately needed someone with expertise and inspiration to create a complete renovation. Cherstone stepped into this role superbly, interpreting and developing our initial ideas to design a house perfect for its setting and our lifestyle," says a client, Mrs G Templeton.

Tim's approach is to strive to exceed the client's expectation throughout each stage of a project, whilst at all times keeping a close eye on budgets and time constraints.

Tim is obviously very passionate about what he does and cares deeply that the client is delighted with the end result. □
